The German word “MARINA” originally denotes “woman of the ocean,” and it also carries the meanings of artistic talent, passion for colors, and meticulousness. She incorporates the number “2” into her name, symbolizing her lucky number, her birthday, and the pronunciation of the Chinese word “兔 (tù),” which stands for “rabbit”.

Exhibition Statement

Dreams Under ConstructionMoments

Text by MAR2INA

Architecture is the gradual realization of our vision for future living, while art opens new possibilities for everyday life.

Dreams Under Construction is a collaborative exhibition presented by Huan Life Lab and Der-Horng Art Gallery, featuring artist MAR2INA in residence at the reception center. Through a vibrant and imaginative visual language, the artist infuses the space with warmth, character, and storytelling.

Moving between reality and dreams, the works portray growth, memories, and aspirations for the future through a perspective that is both playful and deeply emotional.

Huan Yi Development Corp. believes that architecture is more than the creation of space—it is an ongoing proposal for a way of life. Art, meanwhile, encourages us to discover new sensations and possibilities within the everyday. Where architecture and art converge, this venue becomes more than a reception center; it transforms into a preview of a beautiful life yet to unfold, inviting visitors to step into a landscape where dreams and daily life intertwine.
